MELROSE HIGH SCHOOL

1967 LOG

MELROSE, MASSACHUSETTS

We seniors are quickly approaching the end of our supervised educational years. For some this will be the conclusion of formal education; for others, only the step to higher learning. As we review these four years we see evidence of growth leading to our final achievement—graduation, a goal which could not have been reached without the aid of our high school teachers.

Since the beginning of our school life, we have been on a twelve mile journey: each single mile representing the successful completion of one grade. This journey is almost finished; ahead of us lies an intersection: some of us will branch off to practice skills already learned while others will continue the same road to further education. But whether we branch off or continue, this journey has been only the beginning, an introduction to later experiences. Melrose High School has given us a firm basis from which to start the second phase of the journey, but it is now up to us to continue in the same manner. Each of us must now make his own decision as to which path he should continue; once made, that decision is difficult to change. Our future happiness greatly depends upon this major choice. This is why we, the editors of the 1967 LOG, selected this year's theme: crossroads.

Mr. A. Imrie Dixon
Principal

Robert Frost, the New England poet, has written these lines in one of his poems:

"Two roads diverged in a wood, and I—
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference."

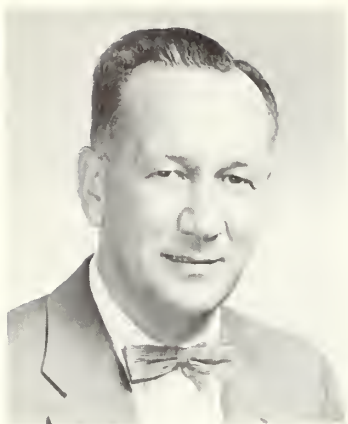

So it is with you, each of you, in your own way has found here in your school those crossroad experiences which have made "all the difference." Differences in the life choices you will make, differences in the success you may achieve. These decisions and experiences have all played a part in moulding and developing the kind of person you now are, and the kind of person you are going to be. What a wealth of memories you take with you.

We trust that through all these experiences there will have developed in each one of you enrichment and growth, not only in knowledge, but also in ideals and purpose, and a readiness to accept an adult role in the exciting world of ideas and purposeful living.

We are the LOG staff of '67
Loyal, hardworking (ha!)
We've struggled, persevered, and won
(we hope)
And produced this, our masterpiece!

There were:

Deadlines and bad lines, good lines and fair,
Drawings and profiles strewn everywhere.
Headaches and heartaches, tearing of hair
(How could you lose 17 profiles?!)
All in all, it was a vintage year.

Also:

Candid photos and captions and "let's keep it neat"
Profiles, subscriptions, and occasional bleats.
(You've lost HIS speech?)
Racing and pacing, typing of sheets
Editors, advisor begging for peace.
(Who isn't writing?)

Kate and Debbie, Mary and Gail,
Janet and Dee Dee, Kathy and all
Made this year a good one for all.
Deadlines come and deadlines go
It's almost a sure bet
That despite our frantic, frenzied fret
We haven't managed to meet one yet.

The publisher appears—"is the copy here?"
Where will this picture go?
Idents without fail . . . next week in the mail!
Came December, came March, and almost too soon
Our LOG arrives for graduation in June.
Finished! . . . "What supplement?"

The IMPRINT, our school newspaper, is of great value to student life. Under the skillful direction of Managing Editor Stephen Mosher, and advisors Mr. Chisholm and Mr. Humphries, this publication is eagerly awaited each month by subscribers. The IMPRINT keeps us posted on all activities and events, offering a variety of news for each reader. Through letters to the editor, students are urged to air their opinions about various aspects of the school which they feel may be more coordinated into the life of the student. Students are welcome to submit original literary efforts to supplement the current news items. The IMPRINT runs a bookstore which carries a wide selection of paperbacks, and holds an annual book fair in the spring, giving students an opportunity to purchase material for reports and summer reading.

This year saw the introduction of THE THISTLE, a modern booklet containing many short stories, poems, and sketches by students, providing a literary outlet to those who enjoy writing. Because the first issue was so successful, THE THISTLE has been established as a regular publication in conjunction with the other school publications, LOG and IMPRINT.

The student government, consisting of Student Council and Student Congress gives pupils a chance to voice opinions and offer suggestions about school regulations and activities. Under the direction of Mr. John McGrath and Mr. Anthony Ceddia, the Council was active in the Middlesex League of Student Councils and, through this, initiated program of student tutoring within the school. This new program was formed in conjunction with the Honor Society and Future Teachers of America Club.

Kent Johnson, as president of the Student Council, supervised its regular activities, including the annual Winter Ball, with this year's theme—St. Moritz. The Council also promoted the election of class officers and the CARE program.

The Student Congress, under the direction of Mr. Alton B. Cole, consists of homeroom representatives. The Congress assumes responsibility for the sale of Student Activity Tickets and annually holds a Winter Sporting Goods Exchange to aid the Permanent Scholarship Fund.

The Honor Society provides incentive for learning by recognizing those students who have attained a high degree of success in their studies, and sets goals for the students of the school. Those who earn "A" in at least ten points of prepared courses and no grade lower than "B" during the four quarters of eligibility (second and fourth quarters of junior and senior year) are chosen for membership. Honor Society members hold passes to the school library and are privileged to wear the gold M. Students who have earned membership during three of the four quarters of eligibility are distinguished at graduation by wearing the red tassel.

The Honor Society is a body of students whose common denominator is an appreciation and understanding of the world around them. Under the guidance of Miss Margaret Brown and Miss Flora Lutz, faculty advisors, the Society sponsors activities that will benefit its members. During the past years, the members have taken advantage of Boston's cultural opportunities by visiting many museums and concerts. This tradition has continued this year by starting with the viewing of "Is Paris Burning?" The annual sale of Red Raider decals at sports events and through the year supports these projects and helps to contribute to the Permanent Scholarship Fund.

At induction ceremony, the meaning of the symbol M, representing Melrose High School and Man, is explained to every new member. The M holds the eternal flame of knowledge supported by the two pillars of truth, honesty, justice, and service.

The Honor Society is a vital part of the students of Melrose High School who are seriously interested in academic progress. The principles taught to them by the Honor Society will guide and enrich their future.

Melrose High School boasts one of the finest and most active debating teams in New England. Coached in the "Daniel Webster tradition" by coaches Freeman T. Frank and Peter T. Brown, the club traveled to Dartmouth, Pittsburgh, U. N. H., Boston College, and U. Mass. We were especially proud of varsity debaters, Vincent Ferraro and Gail Russell, who placed first in the U. Mass. New England Tournament. At the B. C. National Tournament our varsity team beat University Beckinridge, Holy Cross, and last year's champions, St. Brendan's. Soon the trophy cabinet will have to be enlarged to hold the many cups and plaques won by our young Daniel Websters!

Drama

Exciting people are drawn to the theater by exciting happenings! Our Drama Club is no exception to the rest of the theater world, and a peep at the Call Board or a glance into the Olde English Office will prove this to the uninitiated.

On the green board glare purple letters (considered to be much more "subtle" than neon). Stern warnings in four-inch high letters admonish members to pay their dues. The rest of the green is hidden under advertisements for theaters such as the Loeb and the Charles. Inside the "green room," Margo Hensel is persuading friends to usher at the Charles or is notifying them of a Pegasus meeting. At Mrs. Hamlin's desk, Geoff Stewart is collecting money or writing friendly threats on yellow "see me" slips to all those members who have not returned tickets, and Barbara Zajac and her hard-working committee members are planning strategic maneuvers to sell tons of candy.

During the exciting production weeks, the auditorium becomes the Drama Club's headquarters, this year featuring Oliver Goldsmith's She Stoops to Conquer. From three to five, and even much later, Mrs. Hamlin and her cast can be found laboring on lines, blocking characterizations, and solving such little problems as the decision to fill the teapot with TAB.

Club

The theater calls for dedication, and so does the M.H.S. Drama Club. When a blizzard struck during the week of production, the cast rehearsed from noon until five, while the rest of the school was safely and warmly at home. Even on the "no-school" day which followed, Mrs. Hamlin and the members made their way to rehearsal. The sacrifice was worthwhile, for on that day, props suddenly came to life: Wayne Bailey (alias Tony Lumpkin, John Proctor) wielded his riding crop with unerring precision, off-stage and on. Marlow's boots were difficult to get on in just the right places, and the ladies, the Misses Griesbach, Bernard and Gandolfi, learned to speak the "language of the lace fan." With this production, Mrs. Hamlin scored a triumph of enthusiastic audience response equal to that of "The Crucible."

In May, the Drama Club concluded its year with two activities: a trip to Stratford, Conn., which enabled some of the club members to see Shakespearean plays well-performed; and the installation of next year's officers at the final gala banquet by this year's officers: Richard Orsillo, President; Mary Bernard, V. President; Audrey Griesbach, Secretary; and Geoffrey Stewart, Treasurer.

MUSICALE

Under the direction of Mr. K. Love, the Melrose High Band got under way to a successful 1966-1967 season. The band performed at all the Melrose football games during the half time periods with Eda George as Student Director. Among the interesting and unique formations presented, the band danced to Tijuana Taxi and Marie. The band generated school spirit at the two rallies held at the school before important football games.

In past years the band has exchanged concerts with other schools. This year the band hopes to have its concerts with Monadnock Regional High School in Keene, New Hampshire, participating in a joint concert there and a return concert here later in the year.

Among its other activities, the band held its annual Spring Concert with its program of old favorites and currently popular music. The band concluded its season's activities marching in the Memorial Day parade, and playing for the graduation in June.

Each A block the rhythm of the Band rehearsals gives way to the twang of strings in the Music Room from another member of our musicale. The Orchestra with its dedicated group works to improve its playing technique under the direction of Mr. Love. The result of these efforts was appreciated by all during the orchestra's performance at the Christmas Vespers.

Several members gained the distinction of performing in the district orchestra; a program providing the talented young musicians of various cities with the great experience of playing with and meeting other students who share their love of music.

At the annual concert in May, the members played classical and modern compositions. This art has been fostered and encouraged to provide Melrose High with a highly competent orchestra.

This year's Glee Club consisted of some of the finest musical talent to be found in the M.H.S. student body. Under the direction of Mr. Wood, head of the Music Department, the Glee Club put on many fine performances in the course of the year beginning with the Thanksgiving assembly in late November. One of the club's more formal activities took place at Christmas Vespers, highlighted by the Christmas Story and illustrated by selections from the Messiah and seasonal sacred songs. The Ensemble, comprised of some outstanding voices of the Glee Club has done many programs outside of school such as their annual trek to the Rotary Club at Christmas time.

Most of the Glee Club's future vocalists will come from the Freshman Girl's Chorus, consisting of all freshman girls who show an interest in singing in the Music Department, and in the Christmas Vespers. All three groups give the girls and boys of Melrose High School many opportunities to engage in varied choral programs.

The Junior Classical League

The Junior Classical League fosters the study of Latin and the classics and often tries to achieve this serious goal by hilarious means. To be initiated, all the third year Latin students must write and produce an appropriate play. Before an audience of seniors, they performed witty pieces, including a satire whose lead was a character named "Lyndonius."

This year's officers were Mark Holden, President; Vincent Ferraro, Vice-President; Susan Mastromarino, Secretary; and Marcia Charlton, Treasurer.

This May, the members dressed in togas to attend the State Convention, and under the direction of Mr. Reid, plans are going forward to send members to the national meeting in Arizona.

Future Teachers of America

The Future Teachers of America has been especially active this year. Starting the new school year off right away, they held a dance September 27 to raise funds for their coming events. The activities for the 1966-1967 year were carefully planned by the officers chosen in the spring of the previous year. This year they were: Dona-Kay Planta, President; Sandra Shay, Vice-President; Florence Keefe, Secretary; and Jean Marie DePetris.

The club under Mr. Grant's guidance sponsored its usual activities, such as movies for elementary school children; but also initiated a successful new program. This new event concerned tutoring by students within Melrose High. The Guidance Department would contact Mr. Grant and inform him of a student having trouble in one particular subject and willing to accept the aid of a student tutor. Mr. Grant would then assign a club member, usually in the Honor Society or a member of the Honor Subject classes, to work with the student. This program was initiated on a trial basis this year, and if successful will continue next year.

Also, the F.T.A. enlarged its teacher-aid program outside Melrose High. A senior member of the club is assigned to one grade in elementary school to aid the teacher and gain first-hand experience. Because of its success in 1965-1966 trial year, this activity was renewed on a much larger scale this year.

Other programs during the year consisted of a field trip to Salem State College, a panel discussion with four girls from Lesley College in Boston, and lectures from student teachers currently at Melrose High.

CHEERLEADERS

After May try-outs, the M.H.S. cheerleaders, led by Candy Hasey, started practicing in June.

("and July, and August, and . . .")

All that practice produced co-ordinated cheering and a few sore throats when the teams actually began their seasons.

("not to mention pre-game breakfasts." "Oh no, the bus is broken! We'll have to ride home with the football team—too bad!")

With much planning and preparation the cheerleaders and some seniors presented their highly spirited and highly successful Thanksgiving rally.

("Where'd that turkey come from?" "There's Mother Cef and her Grade A eggs!" "I've never seen so many posters.")

With only a few weeks between the end of the football season and the beginning of the basketball and hockey seasons, the cheerleaders brought their new skills to perfection. With two teams to cheer for, the girls had little time left for other things.

("I think I could get to the Arena in my sleep now!" "Our big chance—cheering before the Celtics' game." "Quiet down in the back of the bus, PLEASE!" T-E-A-M, yea team!")

Although they succeeded in wearing out quite a few frenzied women bus drivers (not to mention their advisors, Miss Flanagan and Mrs. Morris), the cheerleaders deserve much credit for encouraging our teams on to victorious seasons.

GO-O-O-O-O!

MAJORETTES

Always peppy and high stepping, the majorettes were a well-received attraction at all M.H.S. football games, performing many half-time shows enjoyable to all. These enthusiastic twirlers planned and practiced many intricate routines for hours on end to present their best possible performance to every audience. Led by Lydia Kinney, their captain, the majorettes had a heavy schedule twirling at rallies, concerts, and marching with a high and snappy step at the Memorial Day parade. During the summer, the girls considered a plan to have new and different uniforms for rallies and concerts. Their plan was carried out and all the girls proved to be capable seamstresses. Their efforts were well-rewarded as every member of the school welcomed the new addition. The zestful twirlers brought color to all M.H.S. rallies and were successful in keeping up the school spirit. A brilliant twirling interpretation of the song Tijuana Taxi was done by this talented group of girls. With these thoughts in mind; we, the graduating members of M.H.S. will never forget the inspired efforts of these girls to make our final year here a memorable one.

Kneeling: P. Bond, P. O'Hara, L. Kinney, Captain; D. Bowen, D. Melenchini.
Standing: J. Meehan, D. Corgum, B. Hahn, J. Hall.

SENIOR MEMBERS

JUNIOR MEMBERS

The Melrose High School Girls' Club began its 1966-1967 season under the leadership of Deborah Clifford as President, Mary Jo Grant as Vice-President, Kathleen Murphy as Treasurer, Alexandra Cefalo as Recording Secretary, and Lynn Andrews as Corresponding Secretary. Miss Stuart, Mrs. Hanson, and the Girls' Club officers soon began to plan for the annual "Back to School Night" in October when members served as guides to help confused parents find their way through the school corridors.

This year the Girls' Club held its annual Thanksgiving basket project to provide eighteen needy families with their Thanksgiving dinner. The Girls' Club officers, with the help of Donna Opacki and her committee, joined in to promote this worthy project. The response from the students was so generous that the Girls' Club had enough money left from the Thanksgiving baskets to provide two families with their Christmas dinner and gifts for each member of the family.

In February the Girls' Club officers planned an assembly in which a film on retarded children was shown. A talk followed on the subject of retardation as the girls of the high school listened intently. This was followed in March and April with informative talks by two social workers which were received with a great deal of attention from the girls.

A large number of hungry students showed up for the second May breakfast. This was a newly-started program for the Girls' Club and hopefully it will be continued in future years. Election of new officers took place in May and their installation was in June. The entire year was very successful due to its fine leadership and interesting programs.

G. A. A.

The GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION offers girls in all classes a chance to participate in various athletic programs. Under the leadership of the G.A.A. officers, Anita Soccorso, Janet Johnston, Carol Moir, and Diane MacIsaac, and the class captains, Elizabeth Howe, Libby Waste, Margret Moore, and Linda Butler, the organization has more than fulfilled its goal.

TUMBLING CLUB helps girls develop skill and precision in working on various apparatus and floor work. They aim for perfection and display their abilities in a show.

The MODERN DANCE CLUB has become very popular and the twenty-eight members are chosen very carefully for their grace and ability. The officers: Roberta Telles, President; Suzanne Baier, Vice President; Sue Crowley, Secretary; and Candy Hasey, Treasurer, have worked hard to make the club successful by performing shows for the school and for many organizations in the city.

G.A.A. sponsors the many girls' athletic teams including Field Hockey, Basketball, Softball, and Tennis. Also under the organization's auspices are the cheerleaders and the majorettes, and the LEADERS' CLUB.

The sale of Student Activity Tickets is to provide funds for the various clubs and to encourage student participation in school events. The S.A.T. officers keep the records and handle the funds for the different school clubs. In the past few years, however, the sale has been disappointing, and it is felt that more students should take advantage of the chance to support their school and to save money at the same time.

The Distributive Education Clubs of America have been organized in many high schools in the New England area. Through this program students learn and perform commercial transactions similar to those found in the business world. Under the leadership of the Melrose officers, Brian Crowe, President; Anita Yurashus, Vice President; Donald Donato, Treasurer; and Roseanne Cultrera, Secretary; the club sponsored The Harvest Hop and numerous cake sales.

Delivering screens, phonographs, etc., running movie projectors, and keeping the audio visual equipment in order keeps the A.V. boys on their toes. Under the guidance of Mr. Laine, these boys are taught how to operate and care for the various equipment, gaining a lot of valuable experience and giving the M.H.S. students a change of pace in their classes. Club activities include a scholarship drive and, in the spring, a trip to the T.V. and Radio Department at Boston University.

Library Club

Preparing new books, charging out books, keeping the library in good order, and setting up attractive displays keep the ten members of the Library Club busy. Under the guidance of Mrs. Rose, the freshmen, sophomore, and junior members spend one afternoon each week working in our library. All members are rewarded at the end of the year with a trip to a large library, and more important, with the experience they have gained.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Heald and Miss Winetsky, the Francophiles of Melrose High formed the FRENCH CLUB, with the purpose of promoting a better understanding of the people and language of France. With Anne Hayden as its first president, the club engaged in many successful activities including: a French dinner—prepared by the club's own chefs, Christmas carolling in French at the Melrose-Wakefield Hospital and local nursing homes, and various lectures. With the fine results of this year, the French Club is assured of continuance.

Also new this year was the SPANISH CLUB, sponsored by Miss Athanasoulas and Miss Keefe. In an effort to bring the members closer to the cultures of Spanish speaking countries, the club heard speakers such as Marynoyes Holden, Melrose's Experimental Ambassador to Mexico, and presented imitative celebrations of Christmas and Pan American Day. President Joy Gabriel and the club's members paved the way for the future success of this organization.

Under the guidance of Mr. Bloom, the rifle team has had 7 wins and 2 losses. This fine record places the team in second place to Waltham. One of their losses was to Waltham, and the second to Malden, who tied with Melrose and Newton for second place. Our rifle team beat Newton in a close match by only one point. Although some of the highest scorers such as Bob Steele and Captain Bob Burke are graduating, we can look forward to a good team next year.

The Ski Club's prayers for snow have certainly been answered this season, and the members have taken advantage of the good skiing. Every year the club offers its members the opportunity to ski at many local areas and some out-of-state slopes. Indeed, the Ski Club has aroused a great response in the M.H.S. student body.

How We Achieved Our Organization (?)

One of our editors had a Gail-a time.

We strove to reach great heights.

Except for one conversion point, the Red Raiders football team had a perfect record. The only loss Joseph Hoague's troopers suffered was at the hands of the Reading Rockets and, consequently, the Raiders and the Rockets are co-champs of the Middlesex League.

The Raiders started out fast, trouncing Stoneham 38-14; and followed with wins over Lexington 32-12, Belmont 46-14, and Concord 38-20. Dick Umile scored four touchdowns in leading his team to a 34-14 victory over Winchester after the Sachems had narrowed an early 20-0 lead to 20-14. The next win was over Lynn Classical 20-14 as an outclassed Ram team battled the Raiders to a near standoff.

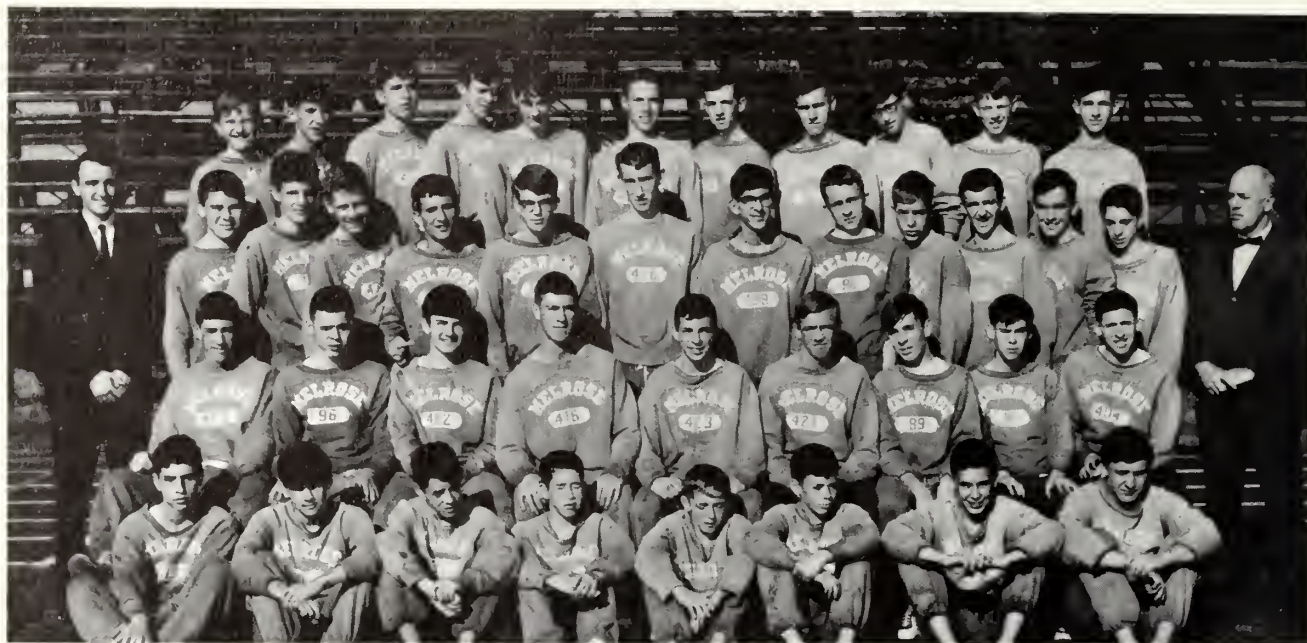

On November 5, the Raiders suffered their first and only loss of the season, bowing to Reading in the last minutes. The Raiders rebounded to close out the season with a shutout, 22-0, over Newton South, and a 22-14 victory over Wakefield in the Thanksgiving Day game. Their final record was 8-1, with the league championship safely stored away.

Leading the club this year were: captain and all-league tackle Jake Driscoll; high scoring (132 pts.) fullback, Brian Berkowitz; leading rusher (900 yds.) Dick Umile; and quarterback Dave Sheridan.

Other senior members of the squad were: Bob Ciulla, Rick Rudolph, Pete Saunders, Vic Leone, Bill Greeley, Kevin Greelish, Don Belmonte, Bill McKenna, Wayne LeBlanc, and Bob Lynch.

The MHS Cross Country team had a rough go of it this year as the Harriers came up with a 2-4-1 record, the first losing season of the club's history. The JV's however, finished with a 5-2 record, a hopeful sign for next year.

The season was one of frustration for new coach Frank Morrow, as his troops, suffering from inexperience, lost some heartbreakers. The first meet was a 21-34 loss to Reading, which was followed by a narrow 27-30 loss to Lexington. Then came the tie with Winchester 28-28, one of the rarest of cross country results, and then another loss to Stoneham, despite a 1-2 finish by Mike Turner and Mike Forrest. The Raiders then smashed Belmont and Concord for their only wins, before closing the season with a loss to Wakefield, the league champ.

Melrose finished fourth in the league meet, and tenth in the state meet.

The star of the team had to be co-captain Mike Turner who set records wherever he ran at Lexington, Belmont and Melrose. His 13:39 time on our home course was 21 seconds better than the previous record.

Field Hockey

This year's field hockey team reversed its usual record by coming up with a most excellent record of 4-2-3. The biggest contributing factor to the girls' success, according to coach Maura Flanagan, was their great spirit. Over 80 girls first tried out for the team, but were finally reduced to 40 varsity and JV members. The JV's matched the varsity's record.

The Raiderettes opened the season with four wins, three straight shutouts over Wakefield 4-0, Belmont 7-0, and Stoneham 3-0, and a 3-1 decision over Wakefield again. Then came two ties with Saugus 2-2 and Winchester 1-1, and two 2-1 losses to Lexington and Arlington. The girls closed out the season with a 1-1 tie with Concord.

Susan Alfano and Anita Soccorso were the co-captains; Janet Johnston was high scorer; Mary Ann Nolan, the defensive star; and sophomore Cindy Hemenway was the goalie. Coach Flanagan cited Susan Alfano as the best all round player and play-maker.

Other varsity members were Paula Strain, Holly Sampson, Ilona Kviecien, Jean Tivnan, Libby Waste, and Carol Moir.

Basketball

The MHS basketball team, just a few short years ago the patsies of the Middlesex League, finished their most successful season under Coach Killilea, when they came back from two early season losses to win the Tech Tourney for the second straight year.

This year's team really was sky high, the tallest team in the state, and finished the regular season with 18 wins and just two defeats. One of the team's wins was a 66-51 drubbing of class A Boston Tech, the winner of its division of the Tech Tourney. Although finishing second in the Middlesex League, the Raiders were clearly the best team in the circuit.

Coming into the Tech, Melrose was seeded third, but had to fight for its life against unseeded Don Bosco in the first round, finally winning on Bill Greeley's jumper with two seconds left, 57-56. This heart-stopping victory sparked Melrose to play its very best basketball, and the Raiders went past Hyde Park in the semifinals, and thrashed Natick 70-38 in the finals to become the only champ to repeat.

In the All-state Tournament the Raiders really proved that the Basketball team from Hockeytown was the best in the state. Melrose ran right by Doherty, Springfield Cathedral, and Holy Family

The Raiders were led by captains Wayne Pereira and Bill Greeley; Wayne the high scorer and Bill the team play maker. Bill Jacobson, Jim Barrett, and Joe Dyson scored in double figures also. The only member of the starting lineup not a senior was Jim Rodgers. Nels Nelson, another junior also played often.

The Raiders will lose their starting lineup next year, but all the rest of the team will be back to try to increase on their great two year record of 46-4.

Gymnastic Team

The MHS gymnastics team, coached by William Reynolds, is still struggling to get on its feet. Ever since a gymnastics team was formed in Melrose the hope that the sport would catch on has not been realized, as the season's record of only one victory indicates.

The only win of the season was recorded over Reading 58-43. The big moment of the year was on February 18, when the Middlesex League Meet was held at Melrose.

Indoor Track

The MHS track team came up with another winning season this year as coach Robert McIntyre and captain Charles Barry led the Harriers to a 5-1-1 record, good enough for a second place tie with Lexington.

Melrose started off the year on a sour note, losing to league and state champ Wakefield, but for the rest of the season was unbeatable. The best meet of the year was with Lexington when the Minutemen picked up a tie by winning the relay by a few inches.

In the state meet, Melrose was third, but showed that next year it will be right up there because of those boys who placed, only one will graduate this year. That one is Jake Driscoll who won the shotput with a 56' 8½" effort, a state class B record. Others who placed were: George Leach (sophomore), first in the high jump at 6' 0"; Damon DeHart (junior), second in the 45 yard high hurdles; Rich Comeau (sophomore), third in the 300; and the relay team of Bill Boyce, Steve Skane, Rich Comeau, and Paul Chiampa, fourth place.

This year was also a year of broken records. Those who set records were: Jack Driscoll, 58' 10¼" in the shotput (best indoor mark in Massachusetts); Rich Comeau, 33.5 in the 300; George Leach, 6'0" in the high jump; Charles Barry, 1:17.2 in the 600; Bruce Morley, 2:24.7 in the 1000; and Damon DeHart, 6.0 (ties record) in the 45 yard high hurdles.

Letter winners were: Charles Barry, Bill Boyce, Mat Ciaizza, John Cimaglia, Rich Comeau, Damon DeHart, Bill Dellea, Jake Driscoll, Mark Holden, George Leach, Stephen Mosher, Bruce Morley, Mark O'Brien, Edward Skane, Burleigh Smith, and Stephen Webster.

Next year's captain will be Bruce Morley.

Wrestling

In the first year of the Middlesex League of wrestling the matmen from Melrose went undefeated to gain first place. The final record of the team, coached by Frank Ball, was 10-2; 5-0 in league play.

Melrose started with wins over Brookline, Winchester, and Belmont, before losing to Ipswich. The Raiders then won five in a row over Malden, Lexington, Newton South, Wakefield, and Haverhill; and finished the season with victories over Reading and Hamilton-Wenham after bowing to Westford.

The biggest meet of the year was against Reading when Melrose clinched the title, although the 53-0 whitewashing of arch-rival Wakefield was quite satisfying.

Melrose also had the honor of hosting the state meet, and the Melrose students supported their team with a fine showing.

Members of the varsity squad were: Steve Quigley, 105; Phil Russo, 114; Richard Goodhue, 122; Paul Durland, 129; Jason Pingree, 135; Jim Trickett, 140; Al Chasse, 144; Dick Sullivan, 156; Brian Berkowitz, 167; captain Ricky Rudolph, 182; and Harmon Petty, unlimited.

For the third year in a row, the MHS hockey team went through their Middlesex League opponents with ease and finished undefeated once again. This season the Raiders, captained by Dick Umile, scored 100 goals during the season, and the only blemish on their record was that last minute 4-4 tie with Wakefield. With their overpowering offense the Hughesmen pushed their win streak to 53 and with the return of many varsity players and JV players (the JV's lost only twice) threaten to keep on winning next year.

The Raiders were seeded second in the state hockey tournament, but after shutting out Xaverian 6-0 in the opening round, ran into a spirited Malden Catholic sexter and lost 3-2 in overtime. Ken Wells played his best game by far, but the offense just couldn't come through in the right time.

Melrose, perennially the highest scoring team in the league, once again outclassed the field. Melrose dominated the top ten scorers, placing the first four men. Captain Dick Umile scored 25 goals and had 26 assists for a league record of 51 points. The captain's career total was 119 points. Sophomore Steve Dolloff and junior Mike Sullivan came next and Mike Turner rounded out the quartet.

Senior members of the varsity team were: Ken Wells, Mike Turner, Bill Reardon, Ken Abbott, Phil Steer, Bob Harris, George Noyes, and captain Dick Umile.

The Girls' Basketball Team, under Varsity Captain Anita Soccorso and Junior Varsity Captain Susan Guarente, had a very successful season this year winning five games and losing four. Two of the losses were in overtime periods. The most outstanding victories were those over Wakefield 20-16 and Burlington 63-17. The team next year will miss the class of '67, but has some promising players in high scoring Libby Waste and Ilona Kviecien.

Before you accept that first job . . .

Look over your employer
as carefully as he does you

What's the Company like anyway? Would I be proud to work there? Reputation for square dealing with employees? Pleasant surroundings?

Will I be working with others my own age? Are they friendly? Do they socialize after hours?

Will the boss be reasonable? Appreciate good, hard work, but won't explode if I make a mistake?

Will I make a decent week's pay? Have a chance for raises, advancement, more responsibility? How about fringe benefits?

Is the work challenging? I had what it takes to get through high school. Will they give me a chance to use my brains?

Note: Many young men and women in this area can answer "Yes" to these questions. They work for New England Telephone.

Why not talk with our employment interviewer soon . . . before you graduate? Ask your Guidance Counselor to tell you when and where to apply.
